Transportation in General

To plan your trip in Vienna, we recommend downloading the WienMobil App for public transport purposes. You can buy your public transport tickets directly in the app and it has accurate information on any possible malfunctions. Alternatively, you can also look up your destinations in Google Maps, or the City Route planner.

There are a lot of different ticket options. A one-way-ticket costs 1,20€ a 24-h-ticket is 8€ and a 48h-ticket is 14,10€.

If you want to stay longer and think about going to the museum, theater or sightseeing, a Vienna City Card or QueerCityPass might be of interest to you since it gives extra discounts on certain entry fees.

Most tickets can be bought directly in the subway, tram or bus you are using. Some can only be bought online (also in the WienMobil App) or in certain ticket shops.

If you are more comfortable taking a car, there is a car sharing service from the Vienna public transport as well. For personal drivers, apps like Uber are common, as well as different taxi services like Taxi40100 for example. In case you want to take a taxi to/from the airport, there is usually an additional fee! You might get a better price if you use a special airport taxi for those cases.

If you arrive at the airport the simplest way into the inner city is usually the City Airport Train. There are alternative, cheaper routes by Sbahn or bus, but they take longer and you have to make sure to get the right ticket to cover the all the zones between the airport and the inner city.

On this day the Symposium is held at several locations.

Participants of the Active Bystander Workshop from ZARA meet in the seminar room 2.08. on the 2nd floor of the Institute for Quantum Optics and Quantum Information (IQOQI) at Boltzmannngasse 3.

To get into the building please ring the bell at “IQOQI Sekretariat 1”, so someone can open the door for you.

After the workshop we will go from Boltzmannngasse 3 to Gusshausstraße 27-29 for lunch and labtours at the Photonics Intitute (TU Wien).

On Thursday our whole program will be held in the Christian-Doppler lecture hall (room 3355) on the 3rd floor of the University of Vienna at Boltzmannngasse 5.

To find the lecture hall it is easiest, if you take the entrance at Boltzmannngasse 5, go straight forward and find the big elevator that takes you to the 3rd floor.

(Due to a construction site in our building at the moment the main entry at Strudlhofgasse is currently completely blocked and the other entrances might be a little out of view.)

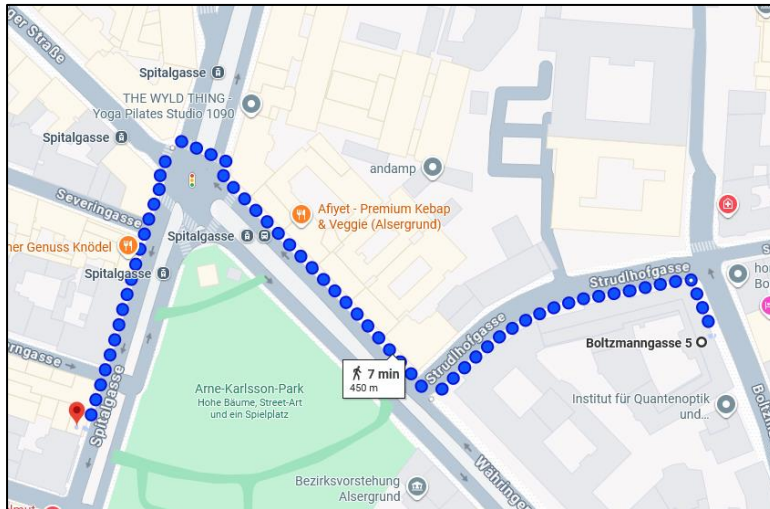

After reaching the 3rd floor you can turn left at the hallway outside and walk to the end of it to find the lecture hall.

For lunch most participants can spend their time how they see fit. Go-to places near the university to eat are for example: Swing Kitchen, Königshofer, Vinzirast, Sägewerk, Rembetiko, bröselei, Kim kocht, Apapika Bowl,...

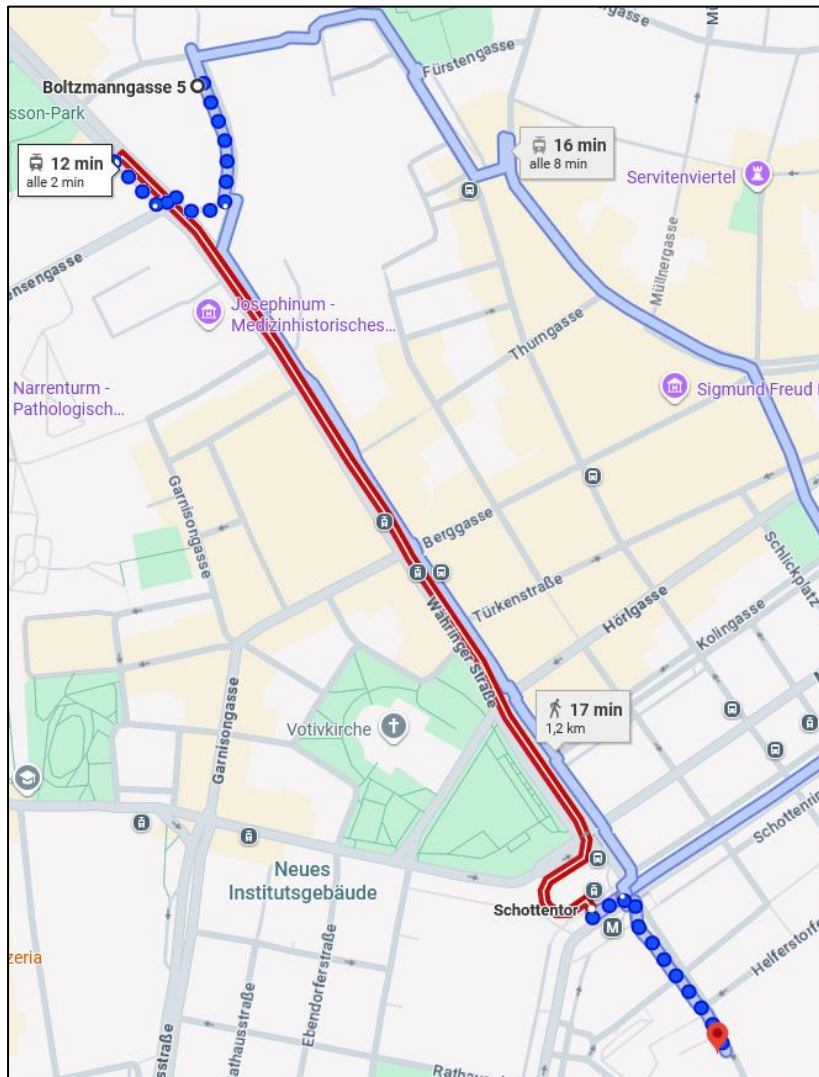

For the PIs and guest speakers a table is reserved at the nearby Shoukou restaurant at Spitalgasse 31. Oliver Heckl can guide you to the restaurant.

For our sports/movement break we have several options. If the weather is nice and you want to join one of the options outside, a guide will show you the way to nearby Arne-Karlsson-Park or Liechtenstein park.

Our SFB dinner together in the evening is held at Melker Stiftkeller at Schottengasse 3. We will take one of the many trams going to Schottentor and walk from there to the restaurant.
